

Jeremy Koch

Saxophone

<https://www.linkedin.com/in/jeremy-koch1/>

jeremykoch1@gmail.com

www.jeremy-koch.com

703-919-5020

Washington, DC

SHORT BIOGRAPHY

Jeremy Koch is a saxophonist, chamber musician, and educator based in Washington, D.C. He is the former principal saxophonist of the U.S. Air Force Band and has been a featured soloist on countless national tours and international conferences, performing for the past five U.S. Presidents and numerous world leaders. Jeremy has performed at prestigious venues such as Carnegie Hall, the Kennedy Center, and Chicago's Orchestra Hall and regularly performs with the National Symphony Orchestra, Kennedy Center Opera Orchestra, Atlantic Reed Consort, Richmond Symphony, Fairfax Symphony Orchestra, and Maryland Symphony Orchestra. He has twice toured Israel/Palestine with Al Kamandjâti-Ramallah Orchestra and was a featured artist at the XXI Encuentro Universitario Internacional de Saxofón in Mexico City. Jeremy is lecturer of saxophone at George Washington University and Shepherd University, maintains a private studio in Bethesda, MD, and has led 50+ master classes across the country. He has premiered works at the World Saxophone Congress, North American Saxophone Alliance, International Saxophone Symposium, IDRS Conference, and the American Composers Forum.